Lord Mayor's Show.

THE LORD MAYOR of London is Chief and principal Magistrate, and the King's immediate Locum tenens, i. e. Lieutenant or Deputy in the City of London; so constituted from and before the time of William the Conqueror; yet going under various Denominations. That King called him by the ancient Name of Portgrave; which is a compound Saxon Word; Port signifying a City, and Grave a Count or Earl; so that Portgrave was the Earl of the City. Hence the Honour due in general to a Count, as well in the King's Presence, as elsewhere in London, was due to this Officer; and in particular the Sword was was carried before him. Afterwards the People corruptly called him Portreeve, which debaseth this great Officer, Reeve signifying no more in Saxon than Villicus; i. e. Bailiff.

At first the Mayor was made tumultuously by all the Citizens, which occasioned great Uproars and Disturbances; wherefore they were chosen afterwards by so many of the discretest and wealthiest Men out of each Ward, sometimes more, sometimes less; which select Number was called the Commonalty. This Way lasted from Edward I. to Edward IV. And then after some time, in his Reign the Election was by the Liveries of the Companies—The first Commonalty, mentioned in the City Books, was made up of Two Persons in every Ward; who were chosen by the Good Men, that is, the discreeter, wiser, and better sort of the Ward. Afterwards this Commonalty was increased to Four, then to Six, and even to Twelve; out of some Wards more, some less, according to the Bigness, as the Mayor in his Summons directed and appointed.—So great a Number as Twelve out of each of the Twenty-five Wards having been found perhaps to create Animosities, in 20 Edw. III

it was agreed, that from thenceforth should come the Mayor and Aldermen, and Twelve, Eight, or Six out of every Ward, according to its Bigness, and they of the richest and wisest, to choose a Mayor and Sheriffs. In the 15th of Edw. IV. by an Act of Common Council, the Masters, Wardens, and Liveries of the several Companies were taken in to assist at the Elections; and so it continues ever since.—Of ancient times the Mayor was chosen on the Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude.

Controversy often arose between the Aldermen and Commoners; the latter thinking that both the Nomination and Election belonged to them only. And therefore, after they had agreed in the West Part of Guildball (the Place where the Sheriffs are wont to hold their Courts) they would present One Person only to the Mayor and Aldermen, sitting on the East End of Guildball, viz. in the Hustings. But the Aldermen opposed, saying, that they were also Citizens, and of the Commonalty of the City; and that it was not just, that they, on the account of the Prerogative of their Offices, should be deprived from having a Voice in the Choice of the King's chief Vicegerent in the City. Hereupon it became a Custom, that the Commoners (after the Cause of their summoning was declared by the Recorder) passed to the other End of the Hall, and nominated Two Aldermen who had been Sheriffs; and then returning, by One that was their common Mouth, presented to the Mayor and Aldermen the Names of the Two; who going into the Upper Chamber, chose, by Plurality of Voices in Scrutiny, One of them; and coming down to the People in the Hall, declared, by their Recorder, who was elected

After Dinner, on the Day of Election of the Lord Mayor, for some time afterwards, it has been usual for the Lord Mayor Elect to go up to be presented to the Lord Keeper or Chancellor, attended by some of the Aldermen and the Recorder, all in their Violet Gowns, with their proper Officers, the Recorder making the new Election known to his Lordship, and he returning an Answer highly approving their Choice.

On the Day of his Lordship being sworn at Westminster (which before the Alteration of the Stile was on the 29th of October) the Aldermen

Aldermen and Sheriffs attend the Lord Mayor at Guildball, from whence they proceed to Three Crane Stairs at the Bottom of Queen-street, where they take Barge to Westminster-Bridge, being attended by divers Companies in their Barges, adorned with rich Banners and Streamers, and accompanied with Bands of Water-Musick; and after Landing at Westminster-Bridge, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen walk round the Hall, and then proceed to the Exchequer, where his Lordship is sworn; after which they take Barge again, and come down the River and land at Black Friars, and proceed in their Coaches to Guildball, as follows.

It has been an antient Custom (which their Majesties upon this Occasion are most graciously pleased to keep up) to honour the City with their Presence the first Show after their coming to the Crown; and not only to see the Procession at a House* in Cheapside, but afterwards to dine with the Lord Mayor at the Guildhall. The Particulars of the Entertainment of their late Majesties, King GEORGE II. and Queen CAROLINE follow at large.

* The Kings and Queens who have honoured the City with their Presence upon this Occasion, have for many Years been entertained at a Linendraper's in Cheapside, opposite Bew Church, now in the Occupation of Mr. David Barclay, a very wealthy and respectable Tradesman, and one of the People called Quakers, who with his Father-in-law (whom he succeeded in the House and Business) have entertained King William, Queen Mary, Queen Anne, King George I. King George II. and Queen Caroline; and will on this happy Day entertain their present Majesties King GEORGE III. and Queen CHARLOTTE; an Honour that few private Persons can boast off.

Cooks.

Mess. Horton and Birch, the King's Table.

Warham, the foreign Ministers, and Four others.

Oswald, the Lord Mayor's, and Four others
Angel, the Lady Mayorefs's and Ladies of Honour.

The other Tables, which are numerous, will be served cold.

The Confectioners are Mess. Cuff, Wilder, and Scot.

Butlers, Dent and Foster.

By Order of the Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen, the several Barges are to be rowed from the Three Cranes to Westminster on Lord Mayor's-day, in the following Order, (being according to the Seniority of the Companies) viz.

The City Barge is to close the Proceſſion,

As ſoon as the Lord Mayor is landed at Westminster, the Companies Barges are to return, in the ſame Order, to the Temple-stairs, before the Lord Mayor lands, and begin the Proceſſion, as before deſcribed.

A C C O U N T
OF THEIR MAJESTIES Entertainment
at GUILDHALL,
On the LORD MAYOR'S Day.

AT a Court of Common Council held at Guildhall on Thursday the 6th of October, it was unanimously resolved to invite their Majesties and the rest of the Royal Family to Dinner on the approaching Lord Mayor's Day; and the Lord Mayor with the Two Sheriffs and the Recorder were ordered to wait upon their Majesties accordingly, to know their Royal Pleasure. It was also resolved, That a Committee, consisting of Four Aldermen, viz. Humphrey Parsons, Esq; Richard Brocas, Esq; John Barber, Esq; and Sir John Williams, and Eight Commoners, should wait upon his Majesty, and desire his Leave to set up his Majesty's Statue in the Royal

Royal Exchange; and likewise his Majesty's Picture, together with that of the Queen, his Royal Consort, in Guildhall: Accordingly, on Sunday the 8th of October, the Lord Mayor Elect, Sheriffs, and Recorder, waited on the King and Queen with the said Invitation, which their Majesties were graciously pleased to accept; and the same Day the Committee appointed by the Common Council to desire Leave to set up his Majesty's Effigy on the Royal Exchange, and also for drawing and setting up their Majesties Pictures in Guildhall, presented the said Requests to their Majesties at St. James's, which were graciously complied with. The next Day the Court of Common Council met again, and both the Lord Mayor Elect and the Committee having severally made their Reports, a Committee was appointed and ordered to take Care of the Entertainment to be provided for their Majesties on the ensuing Lord Mayor's Day, consisting of Eight Aldermen, viz. Sir George Mertins, Brocas, Parsons, Child, Barber, Levet, Sir John Williams, and Alsop; and Sixteen Commoners, viz. Col. Robinson, Dep. Snart, Everet, Colt, Farrington, rington, and Brewis ; Messieurs Evans, Preston, Monk, Bridgen, Fotherby, Byrch, Thomas, Tims, Potts, and Tate.

On Friday the 13th, the Sheriffs waited on the Princess Royal, and her two Sisters, the Princesses Amelia and Carolina, and on his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, to invite them also to the said Feast ; which their Royal Highnesses were pleased to accept.

On Monday the 30th of October, Sir Edward Becher, Knt. Lord Mayor Elect, accompanied by the late Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Sheriffs, in their Scarlet Gowns, went to the Water-side ; from whence they proceeded in the City Barge, attended by the several Companies in their respective Barges, to Westminster ; and having walked round the Hall, and solemnly saluted all the Courts, they went to the Exchequer Bar, where Mr. Serjeant Raby (in the Room of the Recorder) made a Speech on the Occasion, and was answered by the Lord Chief Baron Sir Thomas Pengelly ; after which the Lord Mayor took the Oaths appointed, and having recorded Warrants of Attorney in the proper Courts, returned by Water to Black Friars, and from thence to Guildball, with the usual Solemnity.
to

The King, Queen, and Royal Family having received an humble Invitation from the City to dine at Guildball, their Majesties, the Princess Royal, and her Royal Highness the Princess Carolina, came into Cheapside about Three in the Afternoon, attended by the great Officers of the Court, and a numerous Train of the Nobility and Gentry, in their Coaches, the Streets being lined from Temple-Bar by the Militia of London, and the Balconies adorned with Tapestry. Their Majesties and the Princesses saw the Procession from a Balcony near Bow Church. Then their Majesties and the Princesses being conducted by the Sheriffs to Guildball, the Lord Mayor, at the Entrance, kneeled, and presented the Sword to the King, who was pleased to return it to his Lordship; and he carried it before his Majesty up to the Council Chamber; where Mr. Baron Thomson made the Compliments of the City in the following Speech :

May

May it please your Majesty,

TH E Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of this City, beg Leave to offer their most humble Acknowledgments for this great Honour to the City, by the Presence of your Majesty, your Royal Consort, the Princess Royal, and her Royal Highness.

Their Joy is inexpressible to behold their Sovereign condescending to accept their good Will and Affections, and in the most engaging Manner vouchsafing here to receive their Homage and Duty.

This Day will ever be remembered by them with the highest Satisfaction.---This happy Day, which gave Birth to their Most Gracious King, who is pleased thus to honour them, and who protects them in the Enjoyment of all their Rights and Privileges — A Prince who takes Pleasure in promoting their Happiness; and who thinks it gives the truest Lustre to his Crown, to preserve the Religion, the Laws and Liberties of his People.

Fortunate is their present Condition, and delightful is their Prospect, while they have in View your Majesty, their Most Gracious

and justly admired Queen, and the illustrious Branches of your Royal Family.

Permit, Sir, these your Majesty's most faithful Subjects to take this Opportunity of assuring your Majesty of their unalterable Attachment to your Royal Person, and of the warmest Zeal for the Support of your Government.

The best, — the only Security of our excellent Constitution in Church and State, and of every Thing which is dear and valuable to Englishmen. — Gratitude and Interest make these the unanimous Sentiments of this your Majesty's most loyal and most dutiful City of London.

From the Council-Chamber their Majesties and the Princesses went to the Hustings (the Sword being carried before his Majesty by the Lord Mayor) where their Majesties and the Princesses dined, and the Ladies of the Bedchamber had the Honour to dine at the same Table with them. Tables were likewise provided for the Nobility, Foreign Ministers, Privy Counsellors, the Judges, Ladies, and other Persons of Distinction. The whole Entertainment was very very magnificent. The Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, being seated at their Tables, and Silence being commanded, the Common Crier proclaimed aloud that his Majesty drank to the Health of the Lord Mayor, and Prosperity to the City of London and the Trade thereof, and that her Majesty drank confirming the same. Then Silence being again commanded, the Comon Crier proclaimed that the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, drank Health, long Life, and a prosperous happy Reign, to our Sovereign Lord King George. Silence being again commanded, the Common Crier proclaimed that the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, drank to the Health, long Life, and Happinefs of our Most Gracious Queen Caroline, and the Royal Family.

For the Accommodation of the illustrious Company fifteen Tables were erected, at the first whereof, upon the Hustings, sat their Majesties, the Princesses, and the Ladies of the Bedchamber, which, together with the other Tables, were severally served with the following Number of Dishes.
